Literature Circle: Final Meeting Individual or Make Up Response

Congratulations! You have finished your book. Now it's time to respond to each of the following questions. Answer all parts of each question. Each response should be several sentences; this is the written equivalent of discussing the book with others. This will count as one quiz grade.

How did your book end? What happened to the major characters?
Were any of the surprises at the end foreshadowed?

Response:

Name a character you admire. Does the character have any negative qualities? Explain your selection with specific examples.

Response:

Name one character you dislike. Is there anything admirable about the character? Explain your selection with specific examples.

Response:

Which character changed the most? How? Give specific evidence.

Response:

In what ways are you (or anyone you know) like any of the characters?

Response:

What is the most important word in the book? Why?

Response:

In what ways does the main character succeed? How does that same main character lose or fail?

Response:

If there was another chapter of the book, what do you think would happen next? What in the original text makes you think that?

Response:

Suggest a new title for your book. Briefly explain your choice.

Response:

Would you recommend this book to another reader? What would you say to someone who was considering reading this book?
